

F- GAS & ASHP TRAINING NEWS

F GAS TRAINING COURSES

We are very pleased to announce that we have now been approved and set up to run the fully recognised RQF Level 3 F GAS qualification. More info and details on this course are detailed below.

KEY FACTS

- This course is designed for anyone working or wanting to work with refrigeration, air conditioning, and heat pump systems, and to work with fluorinated gases (F-Gases) and ozone depleting substances. It's for engineers, technicians, installers, and anyone involved in the maintenance, servicing, or recovery of such equipment.
- Knowledge and skills:
Courses cover the theory of system operations, practical skills for handling refrigerants, and leak detection and repair techniques
- Categories:
There are different categories of F-Gas qualifications, with Category 1 being the most common for new entrants.
- Training & Assessment:
Full comprehensive training (Theory & Practical) will be given over the duration of the course, and assessment will include online tests and practical assessments.
- Certification:
Upon successful completion of the F-Gas course you will receive the Level 3 RQF certificate awarded through LCL Awards.

FULLY FUNCTIONING TRAINING AND TEST RIGS TO GIVE YOU FULL HANDS-ON PRACTICAL TRAINING AND UNDERSTANDING OF KEY COMPONENTS AND SYSTEM OPERATION

WE ALSO HAVE VARIOUS "HANDS ON" TRAINING RIGS TO INCLUDE REFRIDGERATION UNITS, AIR CON UNITS AND AIR SOURCE HEAT PUMPS.

All PPE, tools and equipment needed will be supplied for the duration of the training program.
